Subject: Licensing question

Good afternoon Mr. Marrone,

I was wondering if you could look into a few things for us regarding state licensing. As a licensed wholesaler, is it our responsibility to ensure that another distributor is licensed in the state of Maryland before we purchase from them? Is their home state license sufficient? Could you please explain what the difference between a virtual wholesaler and a domestic broker is? Could we potentially apply for a virtual wholesalers permit in another state to buy from another distributor who is unlicensed in Maryland?

Thank you for your time,
